VINEYARDS AND BREWERIES

Enjoy field tours and brewery discussions that highlight the locally grown fruits, grains, berries and honey. For a complete list of vineyards and breweries visit NDtourism.com.

Experience savory cultural food festivals from BBQs and ribfests to the Scandinavian flavor of Norsk Høstfest, Icelandic flavors at August the Deuce, as well as German Oktoberfests and Sauerkraut Day. Visit www.ndtourism.com/events for more local fair foods, and festivals celebrating rhubarb, watermelon, pumpkins, potatoes, sunflowers and geese. Discover flavors of the farmers markets and farm and ranch experiences in North Dakota. Visit the Local Foods map on the North Dakota Department of Agriculture's website. Over 530 North Dakota Pride of Dakota members make, manufacture, process or produce handmade, hand-crafted items.

FARM-TO-TABLE

Third generation Morning Joy Farms welcomes you to participate in ethnic traditional cooking classes.

Slavic Farm offers carpentry skills classes during summer months, raised bed workshops, and has an organic country store.

Local restaurants highlighting locally sourced ingredients on their menus include Fargo's Mezzaluna and Blackbird Woodfire, Bismarck's Pirogue Grill, Minot's 10 Main North, and Grand Fork's Ely's Ivy and Skies 322.

FARMS AND GARDENS

The renovated Nome Schoolhouse event center has a new fiber arts classroom. Check out their "fiber herd." Bagg Bonanza Farm and Bonanzaville preserve North Dakota's turn of the century history with artifacts, homesteads, and farm equipment. Crooked Lane Farm Folk Schoolhouse and Event Center, located on the Barn Quilt Trail, is a generational family farm preserving barn quilts and offers blacksmithing, birdwatching and lefsa making. Pipestem Creek Garden Lodging and Nature Retreat, located in the central fly zone, is dedicated to birding, gardens, tours, trails, and lodging. Cows and Co Creamery family farm is dedicated to making traditional gelato, Gouda cheese and special events at the Creamery Cafe.
