Sandager Park Pavilion updates

This amusement park was started in 1914 and located 3 miles west of Lisbon on the Sheyenne River. Regrettably it was closed during World War I and never reopened. Shortly after the war ended in 1918, the Pavilion was pulled down the frozen river by horses and brought to Sandager Park where it currently sits. Preserving and updating the building was the goal of the project so it can be utilized for another 100 years!

New rock and tables were also part of the renovation.
