Sakakawea Medical Center

Caring for our community is a long-standing tradition at Sakakawea Medical Center. Since our founding, we have strived to care for all who need us and bring health, healing, and a better quality of life to our neighbors. SMC serves Dunn, Mercer, and Oliver counties, and is located in the heart of rural Mercer County and housed in the City of Hazen.

In April 2017, after the retirement of the existing facility, a new medical center was launched. The medical center houses a health clinic, expanded ER and surgical area, rehabilitation, laboratory, palliative and hospice care, along with handicap-accessible patient rooms and centralized registration area and nurses stations. SMC consists of a critical access hospital (licensed for 13 beds) and a 34-bed licensed basic care facility. SMC collaborates to offer a practical nursing program locally through Bismarck State College. The program allows individuals in the surrounding communities to pursue a nursing career through nontraditional means and eliminates a need to travel.

The medical center is a community-owned, not-for-profit organization and is governed by a volunteer board of directors.

Dear Visitors and Friends,

It's always a pleasure to welcome guests to our community! Whether you're here for business or leisure, we invite you to discover the unsurpassed beauty and distinctive charm of this North Dakota Legendary town along the historical Lewis and Clark Trail. Located just fifteen minutes south of the third largest man-made lake in the United States.

Hazen is perfectly positioned on the cusp of major economic activity that has recently captivated the nation. Strategically situated on the border of the Bakken and in between several energy plants and coal mines, Hazen's energy-intensive industrial economy is booming. Our unemployment rate is nearly half that of the national average.

For the sports fan, Hazen is a touchdown, homerun, hat trick, slam dunk and hole in one! From adult recreational leagues to high school activities to little league, you're always sure to score a game in this town! Our community also offers a diverse menu of cultural experiences as well. Summer concerts are held in the park once a month June - September in downtown Hazen.

Over four miles of paved walking and biking trails wind around the city. These scenic pathways connect Hazen's parks, baseball diamonds, football field and golf course; making it a breeze for athletes and spectators to float from one event to the next. It's not uncommon to spot wildlife along the footpath. There's nothing quite as breathtaking as the early morning flight of pheasants freshly flushed from Antelope Creek!

Hazen offers wide open spaces as far as the eye can see. Take in the beauty of wildlife in its natural environment. Swim, ski, soak up the sun on the glorious shores of Lake Sakakawea, hike, bike, kayak the Missouri River, hunt, fish, tell tall tales around the campfire, shop, dine, raise your glass and unwind. Whatever your personal journey holds, Hazen is where your legend unfolds!

Sincerely,

Antoinette Heier

History of Hazen

If Hazen wants to point to its real beginnings, it has to look to Alexander F. "Sandy" Roberts, who arrived in the fall of 1882, squatted on what was to become part of Hazen, and in 1884 filed a request for a post office to be named Hazen. Hazen was named for A.D. Hazen, who was Third Assistant Postmaster General at the time. The request was granted, and on February 12, 1885 Hazen became the authorized name of a United States post office and won a place on the map. However, it was to be another 28 years before Hazen became a town.

The German-Russians that originally settled the Hazen area had migrated from southwestern Germany to the Black Sea area of Russia and then to the United States. At that time only the two Dakotas had extensive lands available, so it was no accident that the largest numbers of German-Russians settled in the Hazen area in May, 1886. In the closing years of the 19th Century, the three towns of Mannhaven, Krem & Expansion had sprung up in the rural area that later became Hazen. All are now ghost towns as many of the businesses and German-Russian residents eventually moved into what is now Hazen.

The Mercer County Star, published in Krem, announced on December 5, 1912, "The townsite which is supposed to be called Hazen has been purchased and the deed to the property lies in the Citizens State Bank of Krem ready to be forwarded to the Tuttle Land Co...." The platting of Hazen was completed on October 27, 1913 and filed with the Mercer County register of deeds on November 7, 1913. The Northern Pacific Railway had announced that 35 miles of rails would be extended westward from Stanton and it was along that line that Hazen was born and continues to thrive.

Agriculture and the energy industry are the backbone of Hazen and the surrounding area. Hazen also boasts the presence of Sakakawea Medical Center as well as the headquarters for West River Telecom Cooperative and Roughrider Electric Cooperative. The population doubled in the 1970's and 1980's as a result of growth in the energy industry, rose higher during construction phases and is now stable at just over 2500 residents.

Things to Do

Arts

The arts have always been an important aspect of the community of Hazen. From painting and crafts to theater, dance and music, Hazen prides itself on the talent that abounds in the community and beyond.

Many of Hazen's programs fall under the auspices of the Hazen Arts Council.

- Hazen Concert Series - Three concerts are scheduled throughout each year. A variety of entertainment such as a cappella groups, brass ensembles, fiddle and dance, etc. is performed at the Hazen High School Theater. Membership is required.

- Jam Sessions - Musicians gather at the Hazen City Hall the first Sunday of each month April-November to play and sing their favorite old time, gospel and patriotic tunes. The event is free to the public. Coffee and cookies are provided.

- Music in the Park - Entertainment is held once a month June-September at the downtown parks in Hazen. Area musicians perform a variety of music ranging from country/bluegrass to folk to gospel. Food and beverages are served by local caterers. Information posted at area businesses.

- Jazz Night - The very talented Hazen Junior and Senior High Jazz Bands present a concert following a dinner and silent auction at its annual event in February.

- Common Threads Quilters Guild - We encourage the appreciation, education, and experiences of quilting. Our membership is open to all who have an interest in quilting, regardless of their experience.

- Chalkfest - This family friendly event returns to Hazen Aug. 13 & 14! Ten nationally known artists will be sharing their talents and working with you and your kiddos! This event brings out the creativity amongst the community. Music – Food – Tons of Fun!

- Sensational Sensory Garden - A new addition to the Paul Weiser Pocket Park is the Sensational Sensory Garden that is meant to stimulate and engage all five senses. A variety of plants such as Chocolate Mint and Lavender are sure to stimulate smell and taste! The sound of the water fountain is relaxing. Spending time in a sensory garden can help enhance your sense of wellbeing, reduce stress, and calm your mind.

Heritage Park/Musical Park

A few of the instruments in the Musical Park.

Located in downtown Hazen, next to the Hazen Public Library, Heritage Park provides ample space for outdoor entertainment. The Heritage Park Committee works diligently to improve and update the property. Beautiful lighting lines the curved sidewalk, while greenery like trees and shrubs fill much of the space. The shelter, once a carport for Sakakawea Medical Center, now provides both a space for musical activities and a shady resting place. Picnic tables and wooden benches offer abundant seating. A Musical Park, featuring 7 instruments ranging from drums to xylophone, was installed in memory of Bonnie Johnson, longtime resident of Hazen, who was very involved in promoting the arts. The Musical Park along with a playground provides activities for the children while parents can sit in the shade and enjoy. During the Christmas season, a beautiful Christmas tree can be seen under the shelter. Heritage Park represents the growth, opportunities and wide-open spaces that can be found in Hazen!

To contact the center, please call (701) 748-3838.

Fantastic Fleischkueckle

Fleischkueckle (also fleischkuekle or fleishkuekla) is a type of seasoned meat pie wrapped in dough, similar to a Cornish pasty or Russian chiburekki. The dish is a traditional German-from-Russia recipe and through immigration became an addition to the cuisine of North Dakota. The dish is also popular among the many German-from-Russia immigrant families of South Dakota.

Fleischkueckle is especially popular around the Mercer County area of North Dakota and is served in local restaurants. It is made locally and distributed.

Fleischkueckle is typically served hot from a deep fryer. Hot oil may pool inside when the breading is completely sealed, making it a sensible precaution to poke and drain any excess before eating.

In Mercer County, diners typically provide pickles and ketchup on the side. The dish is served with gravy in Fargo. A slice of cheese on top is not an uncommon request.

AREA ATTRACTIONS

Knife River Indian Villages National Historic Site

County Road 37, Stanton, ND

www.nps.gov/knri • 701-745-3300

This National Park Service site was once home to several villages of Hidatsa and Mandan Indians with a total population of 3,000 to 5,000 people. These Villages are where Lewis and Clark obtained the services of Sakakawea and her husband, Charbonneau. Visible remains of earth lodge dwellings, cache pits, fortification ditches and travois trails are in an extraordinarily fine state of preservation. A visitor center and furnished earth lodge provide interpretation of the site and you can enjoy self-guided history and nature trails.

Lewis and Clark Interpretive Center

Hwy. 83 and 200a, Washburn, ND

www.fortmandan.com • 701-462-8535

The entire Lewis and Clark journey is overviewed at this center. The exhibits focus on the interaction between the explorers and the native peoples. Visitors can hear the music that the explorers enjoyed, try on a buffalo robe and wear a cradle board much like the one used by Sakakawea to carry her baby on the journey. See items from nearly all of the tribes that Lewis and Clark encountered and view Karl Bodmer prints in the Bergquist Gallery. The recently opened Sheldon Gallery includes an exhibit on nearby Fort Clark.

Fort Mandan

2 miles west of Washburn, ND

www.fortmandan.com • 877-462-9585

Fort Mandan is the reconstructed winter home of the Lewis & Clark Expedition in 1804-1805. This site, located a few miles downstream from the actual site on the banks of the Missouri River, was a place of informational and cultural exchange between the explorers and the Northern Plains Indians. It is located in a wooded riverside park.

Fort Clark State Historic Site

www.state.nd.us/hist/sites/alphanon.htm

701-328-2666

Fort Clark Trading Post State Historic Site is one of the most important archeological sites in the state because of its well-preserved record of the fur trade and of personal tragedy. More than 150 years ago, it was the scene of devastating smallpox and cholera epidemics that decimated most of the inhabitants of a Mandan and later an Arikara Indian village. The archeological remains of the large earthlodge village, cemetery, and two fur trade posts (Fort Clark Trading Post and Primeau's Post) are protected at the site, located one and one-quarter mile west of the town of Fort Clark. Fort Clark is open daily May 16 through September 15. No site admission fee. Modern restrooms, a picnic area, and an observation deck are located at the site. A self-guided tour brochure, available in the Civilian Conservation Corps kiosk on-site, interprets archeological features. Interpretive signs provide additional information.

The Antelope Valley Station (AVS) is a lignite-based electric generating station with a capacity of 900,000 kilowatts. It was constructed for a cost of $1.9 billion. The station has two units, each rated at 450,000 KW. The first unit began commercial operation in July 1984 and the second unit in June 1986. Tours are available Monday-Friday and can be coordinated with tours of the Coteau Properties Coal Mine or the Great Plains Synfuels Plant.

• Ottertail Power - Coyote Station

otpc.com • 701-873-2571

Coyote Station began producing electricity in 1981 after nearly four years of construction. At Coyote Station, making electricity is a simple process. Each day about 7,000 tons of lignite coal is crushed to ¼ inch or smaller (size) pieces. The crushed coal enters the 12 cyclone burners that fuel the boiler. The boiler converts 3,25 million pounds of water to steam every hour. The steam drives the 427,000-kilowatt generator. Electricity leaves the generator at 24,000 volts. Tours are available upon request.

Through the use of North Dakota's abundant lignite reserves and water from Lake Sakakawea, the Antelope Valley Station, Great Plains Synfuels Plant, and Leland Olds Station provide economic benefits and employment opportunities for Mercer County and the entire state.

The Antelope Valley Station, north of Beulah, and the Leland Olds Station, near Stanton, are coal-based power plants operated by Basin Electric Power Cooperative, Bismarck. These plants are part of a network that meets the electricity needs of Basin Electric's 141 members that serve more than 3 million member-owners in nine states.

The Great Plains Synfuels Plant, operated by Basin Electric Power Cooperative's subsidiary Dakota Gasification Company, near Beulah, is the first and only facility in the nation to gasify coal and turn it into synthetic natural gas. It's also the first plant to capture carbon dioxide and send it through a pipeline to Canada for enhanced oil recovery – the largest carbon capture and storage project in the world.
